Good times keep rolling at South

HINSDALE SOUTH — It will be fun while it lasts.

Hinsdale South coach Mike Madsen realizes that his team is not going to continuously beat up on people if they continue to have gaping holes between their 1st and 5th finishers.

In Monday's meet against Leyden in Darien, the Hornets 5th runner finished a little more than 2 minutes south of their 1st finisher. But this time it didn't matter.

The Hornets still almost had a perfect score as they whipped Leyden 18-44 in a West Suburban Gold meet.

The Hornets had representatives in 5 of the top 6 slots, the 3rd-place slot being the only exception.

"We figured we should be able to handle them fairly easily and that's what happened," said Madsen.

From start to finish, this was no contest at all. The Hornets received a 1st-place finish from Carrie Faber, who completed the course in a time of 13:14. Noelle Cooper came in right behind her, finishing 2nd in 13:19. Rachel Doepke finished 4th in 14:10 while Tracy Mondek finished 5th in 14:57 and Cindy Schelthoff was 6th in 15:20.

Though it may not have been a problem this time around, Madsen realizes that when the Hornets face a tougher opponent, they will not have the luxury of running a 2:05 split and still coming out ahead.

"The [big splits] has been our problem all year," Madsen said. "But this time we were missing one of our top 5 runners, Tina Pohl. We've got a few aches and pains right now, but that's not too unusual."

The Hornets' aches and pains may have been on display in the Bloom Invitational Saturday in Chicago Heights, but it hurt their opponents more than it hurt them.

The Hornets finished in a tie for 3rd (with Thornridge) with 116 points in the 12-team invite. And they had to do so without one of their top 2 runners, Noelle Cooper.

Faber and the rest of the troop more than made up for her absence, however. Faber finished the 2.25-mile course in a time of 14:28, Doepke finished 9th in 14:56, Schelthoff finished 34th in 16:12, Pohl was 35th in 16:20 and Sherry Hovorka was 38th in 16:37.
